YOUTH LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE
WITH NOBEL PEACE PRIZE WINNER TAWAKKOL KARMAN

KULeuven Campus
February 23–24, 2019

Tawakkol Abdel–Salam Karman is a Yemeni journalist, politician, and human rights activist who won the Nobel Peace Prize in 2011 in recognition of her nonviolent work for women's rights in Yemen.

PEACEJAM is an international organization led by 14 Nobel Peace Laureates committed to supporting youth-led projects that think globally and act locally. PeaceJam has programs in 39 countries, inspiring young people to address the 10 most pressing issues in the world.

What's a PeaceJam Conference?
The PeaceJam Conference is a two-day leadership conference facilitated by college mentors for 12–18 year olds. This action-packed, fun-filled, interactive conference allows youth to connect with a Nobel Peace Prize winner and other young leaders.

Who can come?
Young people aged 12–18 living in Europe interested in leadership development, understanding global issues, and creating change in their school or community.

How do I register?

BE INSPIRED BY NOBEL PEACE LAUREATE TAWAKKOL KARMAN

Tawakkol Karman grew up in a politically tumultuous country and witnessed the unification of North and South Yemen in 1990. A journalist by profession and human rights activist by nature, Tawakkol responded to the political instability and human rights abuses in Yemen by mobilizing others and reporting on injustices. In 2007, Tawakkol began organizing weekly protests in Yemen's capital, Sana'a, targeting systemic government repression and calling for inquiries into corruption and other forms of social and legal injustice. Tawakkol's weekly protests continued until 2011, when she mobilized protesters to support the Arab Spring, a movement calling for government reform across the Middle East and Northern Africa.

NOBEL PEACE LAUREATES MENTORING YOUTH TO CHANGE THE WORLD

COMPONENTS OF A PEACEJAM CONFERENCE

Family Groups & Mentors

Higher education students are trained to mentor younger students and lead small reflection groups where students debrief the social justice issues discussed during PeaceJam Conferences.

Service Projects & Workshops

Preparing students to be change-makers through high-quality volunteer projects and engaging workshops that teach 21st century skills.

The Jam

Students have the opportunity to experience the Nobel Laureate's culture through music, dance and performance.

Student Presentations

Students engage in service-learning curriculum and create projects for social good, and then share their projects and passions with the Nobel Laureate.

Ceremony of Inspiration

A powerful session led by the Nobel Laureate who shares what inspires them to continue their work in the face of very difficult challenges and then invites students to come on stage and share what inspires them.

One Billion Acts of Peace

A global citizens' campaign led by PeaceJam's 14 Laureates and students to engage the world to address the most pressing issues facing our planet. Students have the opportunity to present their porject to the laureate.
